You Love Your Pets and Want Them to Have Happy and Healthy Lives

BioAcoustic Research

is a unique partnership of musician Lisa Spector, and sound researcher Joshua Leeds. Beginning in 2003, they've set the standard for innovative and effective therapeutic auditory programs, for the prevention and treatment of canine and feline anxiety.

through a Cat's Ear®

This 3-CD series combines music with sound therapy systems adapted for feline anxiety. Bioacoustic recording techniques include sonic anchoring, frequency modulation, and the use of human sound effects.

through a Dog's Ear®

Music for ALL stages of Your Pet's Life

The music of Through a Dog's Ear has been clinically demonstrated to calm dogs and reduce anxiety. The instrumentation is simple — primarily solo piano. The individual pieces have been selected and/or rearranged to gradually reduce heart rates. This is accomplished naturally by progressively slowing rhythms and simplifying auditory data.

"My 14-year-old Sheltie/Corgi mix developed severe anxiety to thunderstorms four years ago. I popped in Calm Your Canine and she went into a crate, curled up and went to sleep. Thank you for your clinical research and dedication. You were able to give her something that I couldn't."

– Lyne Charlsen, CPDT-KA, from PA
